

When the “Link To VCF File” option is chosen for vCard QR codes, the QR code contains the address of a page on the QR Stuff website that allows for the VCF file to be downloaded into the Contacts on the phone.

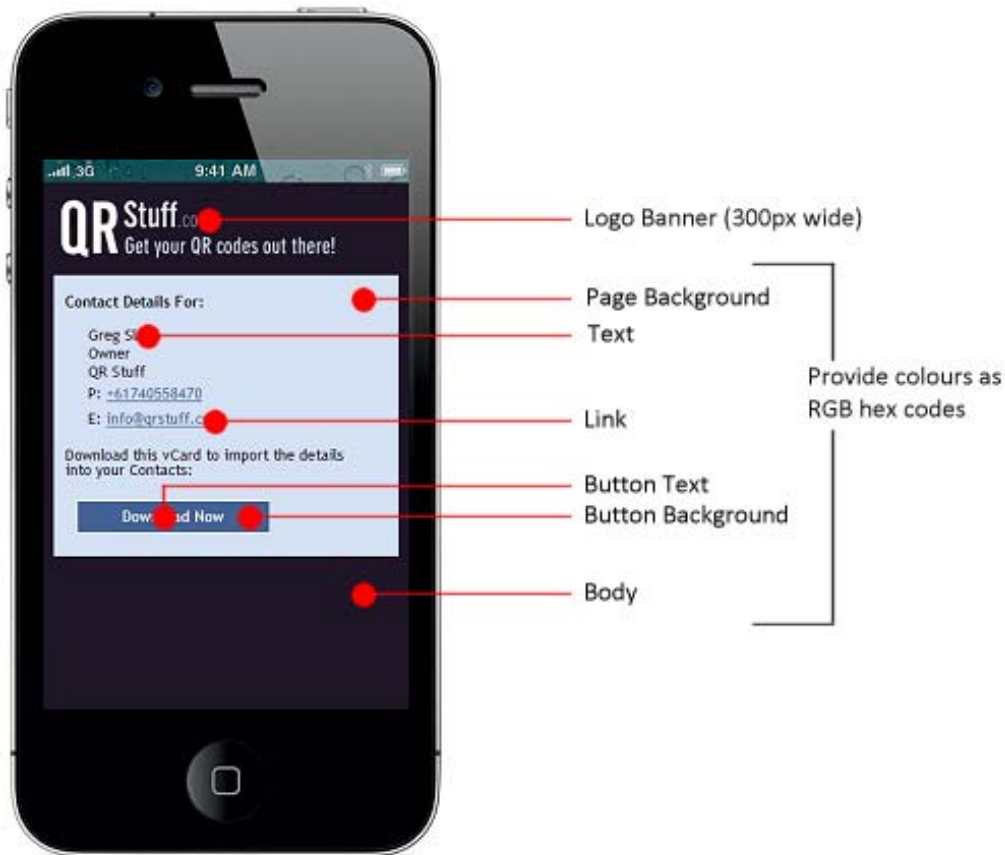

By default this landing page displays the QR Stuff logo and brand colours, however subscribers have 2 options to remove or change the branding on the landing page used for vCard QR codes created within their account.

- Option 1 – Remove the QR Stuff logo but keep the colours the same.
- Option 2 – Replace the QR Stuff logo with your own logo and change the colours used

Please note that only one landing page template can be associated with a subscriber account and all vCard QR codes created within that account will use that landing page template by default.

For Option 2 we will need a copy of your logo banner and details of the 6 colours to be used for the landing page template:

- The logo area is 300 pixels wide and can be between 50 and 80 pixels high. The logo banner to be placed at the top of the landing page should be provided at this size in either JPG, PNG or GIF file formats.
- The 6 colours are shown below and should be provided as RGB hex codes.

Both options are available on request and the changes are done manually at this end. If you need any more information you can contact me (Greg) by emailing info@qrstuff.com
